Resistance Through ART

Charlotte Salomon was a German Jewish artist who started painting as a teenager and created this painting at the age of 24. Salomon was murdered 2 years later in Auschwitz. Her collection, “Life? Or Theater?” of 769 paintings survived.

Sunday, March 8, 2020 | 12:30 – 5:00 pm

Students (grades 7 – 12) and educators from all public and private schools throughout California are invited to gain a deeper understanding of the Holocaust and patterns of genocide.

Attendees will choose from 18 different workshops and will hear survivor testimony from the Holocaust or genocide. Featuring a performance by the extraordinary Violins of Hope.

Galileo Academy of Science and Technology

1150 Francisco Street, San Francisco

Accessible by Muni

The Day of Learning is a free program and lunch is provided. We expect more than 700 students and teachers to participate.

Register by February 28: www.jfcs.org/dol

Questions? Email: holocaustcenter@jfcs.org or call: 415-449-3717

WORKSHOPS include survivor testimony of the Holocaust or genocide.

WORKSHOPS FOR STUDENTS (GRADES 7 – 9)

- The Power of Words
- The Real Story of the Artists of Terezin
- “Everyone Has A Name”: The Holocaust through Art

WORKSHOPS FOR STUDENTS (GRADES 10 – 12)

- Art as a Tool of Resistance
- Beyond the Yellow Star: The Violation of Human Rights in Nazi Germany
- Cambodia: Genocide, Resistance, and Remembrance
- Deporting Our Neighbors: A San Francisco Story of Japanese-American Internment
- Happening Now: Genocide in Myanmar
- Is a Picture Worth a Thousand Words?
- My Cousin’s Violin: A Symbol of Hope
- “Never Say this is the End of the Road”: Resistance through Music
- Rwanda: Searching for Justice After Genocide
- Underground Mission: A Resistance Campaign in Hong Kong
- We Remember: Developing a Voice for the Victims of Genocide
- “Why Didn’t the Jews Fight Back?”: Exploring a Misconception

WORKSHOPS FOR TEACHERS

- Antisemitism and Meme Warfare
- Eight Missing Pages: A Story of the Armenian Genocide
- Fighting Back: Armed Resistance During the Holocaust

A program of the JFCS Preiser Shorenstein Institute for Holocaust Education.